Dear Henri and Emmy:

Beryl and I read with sadness the article in this morning's Times of the passing of your mother, Henri, and extend to you and to your family our sincerest condolences.

I have a vivid recollection of meeting her. I then realized the source of your great talent and strength, some of which I am sure has passed on to your two lovely children. She must have been a great inspiration to all.

Eighty-nine is a pretty good age, and particularly when you have been quite strong and in good health during the latter years.

Our best wishes to all of you.

Sincerely,

Walter G. Danielson
Consul General
